

The Polish Ambassador & The Permaculture Action Tour present

Ashland

Community Resource Guide

Get involved with local projects, places, and organizations that are making the shift towards a more permanent human culture (perma-culture) through education, community building, and action. Let's create a better world, together.

Maitreya Mountain Village

Volunteer for a minimum two week stay and help this permaculture project & living space in the Siskiyou mountains come alive. With terraced gardens, orchards, and raised beds, the community is currently accepting applications to live or work on the 160 acres, off-grid, focused on peace, health and service.

Rogue Valley Farm to School

223 5th St, Ashland, OR

Committed to approaching the issues of health & nutrition in schools, lack of access to healthy foods in urban environments, and the need for children to have agricultural education, Rogue Valley Farm connects schools with local farmers to plant school gardens. Community members can volunteer at school gardens, orchards, and share in the bounty by checking the volunteer calendar.

Sacred Earth Design

152 Orange Ave, Ashland, OR

Building the dream one home at a time, Sacred Earth specializes in ecological design and the installation of water/irrigation design, food forests, greenhouses, and organic food systems in Southern Oregon. At time of writing, the City of Ashland was offering residents a rebate (tax-break) if they chose to replace their lawns with drought resistant, perennial plants. Get in contact with Sacred Earth and convert your lawn or side-yard into a thriving food-forest and rain-catchment system.
